

Kenmore State High Community Connection with Kenmore State High School Executive Principal

Mr. Paul Robertson

Education for Life

As we approach the final weeks of the 2025 school year, I find myself reflecting with immense pride on the extraordinary achievements, growth, and spirit of our Kenmore State High School community. It has been a privilege to witness the dedication of our students and the professionalism of our staff who together make this school a truly remarkable place to learn and lead.

At our Premier Awards Night, we had the pleasure of celebrating outstanding academic excellence across our student body:

- 38% of all student results were at an A level.
- 75% of students achieved all As or Bs.
- 447 students received an A for Effort and Behaviour across all subjects.
- 534 students achieved either all As, As and one B, or all As with no fewer than two Bs.
- 201 students—just over 10% of the school—earned straight As across all subjects.
- Among our Year 12 cohort, 89 students recorded 100% for one or more internal assessments.
- One student achieved 100% across all six subjects, and another achieved 100% in five subjects.
- Another standout achievement: a Year 12 student received As in all eight subjects, with 11 more earning As across seven subjects.

What an extraordinary accomplishment for a non-selective public school. These results reflect not only our students' hard work and persistence, but also the supportive and aspirational culture that defines Kenmore State High School.

Beyond academic achievement, we also acknowledged students who demonstrated exceptional leadership and service in cultural, sporting, community, and environmental initiatives. Many of these young people have contributed to the life of the school and the broader community, often over a number of years, modelling compassion, teamwork, and pride in their school.

These achievements are made possible through the expertise and dedication of our professional and caring staff, who work tirelessly in partnership with our parents and community members to ensure every student can thrive.

As we conclude another successful year, I extend my heartfelt thanks to every member of our school community for their commitment, kindness, and belief in what we can achieve together.

A proud Executive Principal,
Mr. Paul Robertson

Who's a Bad Boy?

There are increased safety fears for Posties as holiday deliveries ramp up.

Australia Post is urging dog owners to properly secure their pets this holiday season, as new data reveals 46 Posties a week are falling victim to dog-related incidents – an average of nine per day. Despite repeated appeals for owners to secure their pets when expecting a delivery, aggressive and unpredictable dog behaviour remains a growing safety risk for Posties.

Alarmingly, one in three incidents occurs on customer property – either at the front door or when the Postie is approaching or leaving the front door to deliver a parcel.

A further 62% occur on the street, with more than 80% of those involving dogs escaping a property or roaming freely without an owner present. One in three street incidents involved a Postie being chased by a dog, highlighting the real and immediate danger faced by frontline team members.

Australia Post will cease deliveries to a property or street if a Postie is threatened or injured by an aggressive dog. To help protect team members, Posties have also been equipped with citronella spray as a last-line-of-defence safety measure.

Australia Post General Manager Safety, Russell Munro said simple actions from dog owners can make a critical difference during the busiest delivery period of the year.

“Our Posties want to be able to deliver for our customers without fear of being attacked or chased by a dog.

“If you're expecting a parcel delivery, our app makes it easy to stay informed with up-to-date delivery times and now displays a timely reminder to secure your dog in another room or behind a gate,” Mr Munro said.

Prevention in the first instance is key. Australia Post advises dog owners to follow the three PAWS for delivery steps: Sit, Stay, Secure.

Sit your dog safely in a contained place, separate room, or behind a locked gate at the back of the home when expecting a delivery.

Make sure it's somewhere the dog can Stay while your Postie delivers your parcel.

Keep your dog Secure behind your door or gate, allowing the Postie safe access to make the delivery and leave the property.

If you are unable to properly secure your dog, consider using your nearest Parcel Locker.

Merry Christmas & HAPPY NEW YEAR
